Dear Generalissimo:

I deeply appreciate your immediate and complete support and the cooperative assistance of your Supreme G2 Air Major General LAI, Ming-tang in the recent recruiting of personnel in Taiwan to be employed as civilians within this command. By virtue of their nationality, language and training they should make a significant contribution to our mutual effort against Communist aggression.

The personnel recruited have been carefully selected and are currently undergoing training. Equitable terms of employment have been worked out by General LAI with my representatives, and General LAI is now in process of selecting the first two of four boat crews which are a necessary part of this program.

Arrangements have been made to furnish you, through General LAI, all the information collected through the activities of individuals recruited in Taiwan. It is believed that over a period of time, this program will become increasingly profitable from the standpoint of producing trained personnel as well as intelligence.

Your continued support of this program will be appreciated. I am sure you are aware of the necessity of adequate security measures for this important activity.

I recall with great pleasure and satisfaction my visit with you and your people in January.

With warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

SIGNED & DISPATCHED

J. E. HULL
General, United States Army

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek
President
Republic of China
